FAMILY'S 'WORST NIGHTMARE'

• MURDER SUSPECT: Jed Allen, 21

HUNDREDS of trees and lamposts throughout Didcot have been decorated with ribbons as residents across South Oxfordshire try and cope with the tragedy of a family's triple murder.

The families of Philip Howard, Janet Jordon, and their six-year-old daughter Derin have described their 'worst nightmare come true' yesterday in the first time they have spoken out about the horrific killings which sparked a major manhunt across Oxford on Saturday night.

The three victims were found stabbed to death at their Didcot home in Vicarage Road.

The body of the key suspect, Ms Jordon's 21-year-old son Jed Allen, was discovered by two members of the public in Oxford woodland on Monday.

It brought and end to a 45-hour search involving more than 100 police officers with riot gear and sniffer dogs, which shut University Parks on Sunday.

See pages 2 and 3 for full story.

• VICTIMS: Janet Jordon, her daughter Derin, six, and her partner, also Derin's dad, Philip Howard

"You were the best there ever was, daddy"

THE families of the murdered Philip Howard, Janet Jordon and their six-year-old daughter Derin Jordon described their 'worst nightmare come true' yesterday in the first time they have spoken out about the brutal killings.

Mr Howard's other children also wrote a moving poem to their dead dad (see right).

It asks him to "take care of our sister Dezzy up there daddy, take care of Jane too."

The family was murdered in their Didcot home in Vicarage Road on Saturday night, sparking a manhunt across Oxford for the key suspect - Ms Jordon's 21-year-old son Jed Allen.

Allen's body was found two days later near Cherwell Close in Old Marston, Oxford.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Ms Jordon and Derin's family said: "Our family has experienced a tragedy that is quite frankly unimaginable.

"Janet was a beloved daughter, sister and auntie.

"Dezzy was a breath of fresh air, truly one of a kind.

"For a family to lose someone so young cannot be explained in mere words."

Mr Howard's older brother added: "Our family are still in shock and disbelief.

"My beloved bro and uncle Philip, you'll be missed so much. Until we meet again... little bro."

Police yesterday confirmed the victims died from multiple stab wounds after a post mortem.

A report is to be prepared and handed to the coroner.

Allen's body is yet to be formally identified and his post-mortem was not finished when the Guardian went to print last night.

A police search for Allen of more than 100 officers shut Oxford University Parks on Sunday, but two members of the public discovered his body in woodland by Marston Ferry Road on Monday evening.

• Philip Howard, 48, with his children.

Jed Allen fact file:

- Jed Allen was the son of Janet Jordon and the half-brother of schoolgirl Derin, six
- He joined the Didcot Town Council's gardening team in September 2013 and was employed as an apprentice gardener at the time of the incident
- Allen's Facebook page lists him as a former pupil of Marlborough School in Woodstock
- He attended Abingdon and Witney College and studied for an NVQ Level 1 and 2 in Horticulture
- He had a spider tattoo on his left hand
- Allen was an amateur weightlifter and had a big interest in horror, action and superhero films according to his social media profiles
- Allen's Instagram account was full of selfies with friends, however it did highlight darker sides of his nature, with one post sharing this quote: 'Damaged people are dangerous because they know they can survive'
- Allen was a huge fan of Marvel superhero Wolverine, according to social media, often styling his hair in the same way and growing side-burns to mark the character's appearance
- Heavy metal music was also a passion of Allen's and he was a fan of Five Finger Death Punch, Korn and Rob Zombie

"Take care of our sister Dezzy up
there Daddy,
Take care of Jan too,
We wish you didn't have to go Daddy,
It's our worst nightmare come true.
We are taking care of Tetley Daddy,
Uncle Andy too.
You were the best there ever was Daddy,
We're so glad to be a part of you."

Residents come together to pay their respects

TRIBUTES from Didcot residents have poured in following the triple murder in Vicarage Road on Saturday night.

Residents left dozens of flowers, toys, cards and personal notes outside the home to pay their respects to the murdered Jan Jordan, 48, Philip Howard, 44, and their six-year-old daughter Derin.

A tribute with a pile of flowers left outside the home read: "Dear Janet and Phil, we cannot believe how and why you have been taken from this world."

It continued: "We will always remember you the way you were, forever in our hearts and our thoughts x."

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Another personal tribute dedicated to Derin read: "Dear Derin, I was your child-minder in 2011 and you were the most well behaved, kind hearted, sweet little girl who will be missed by everyone.

"You and your family are in our hearts. Love from Clare, Ker, Josh and Oly."

Tributes were also left outside Derin's school at All Saints Church of England Primary School in Tamar Way where cards and flowers were left, with one reading: "To Dezzy, goodbye, you are with God now."

A box with cards on it was also left outside the school for pupils to write thoughts or memories of Derin for a Book of Remembrance.

The town has also taken to tying brightly coloured ribbons to posts as a tribute to the family, hundreds estimated around the town.

College takes charge of adult learning services

OXFORDSHIRE County Council is transferring its adult learning services to Abingdon and Witney College from next Monday to ensure the long-term future of the provision.

Evening classes, apprenticeship and workplace training and leisure courses will be provided by the college from June 1.

The 180 members of staff currently employed by the county council will all be transferred to the college, with no redundancies or job losses expected.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Lorraine Lindsay-Gale, the county council's cabinet member for cultural and community services, said: "We're very happy to be able to transfer our adult learning service to a trusted local provider with the ambition, expertise and resource to expand the service further.

"The college is committed to providing the same level of service as that provided by the council and to growing and developing it over time.

"Staff who work for the council will transfer to the new employer so there are no redundancies or job losses.

"It is a good deal for everyone and should lead to adult learning in Oxfordshire flourishing in the years ahead."

At present 12,600 learners take part in courses at more than 80 venues across Oxfordshire annually.

The transfer will allow the college to offer more full-time courses in more locations.

College principal Teresa Kelly said of the news: "We are very much looking forward to growing this provision for the people of Oxfordshire."

Councillors vote for 57% increase in annual salaries

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

SOUTH Oxfordshire's district councillors have voted in a 57 per cent increase in their annual basic allowances, which sees them go in line with the Vale of White Horse as the highest paid district councillors in Oxfordshire.

• South Oxfordshire District Council leader John Cotton

Each SODC councillor will be paid a basic allowance of £4,575 despite a report from an independent remuneration panel that recommended a 21 per cent increase in the allowance to £3,500.

The bigger increase came from a last-minute proposal from SODC leader John Cotton that was voted for by all but three of the 29 councillors at last Thursday's annual council meeting in Crowmarsh Gifford.

Cllr Cotton will also get a special responsibility allowance of £18,151 - an increase from £10,000 - whilst other cabinet members are now eligible for £8,470.

Cllr Cotton told the Guardian that there was 'never going to be a good time' to introduce the proposals to increase the councillors allowances.

He said: "The decision to get us in line with the Vale's salaries has long been on the agenda. They voted in their allowances last year so that was our intention.

"I would not have recommended introducing the increase just a few weeks after the election but there is never a good time to talk about these things, and I'm sure the public will be concerned as they'll view it as a huge hike in allowances."

The new basic allowance for SODC councillors now puts them level with the Vale, with West Oxfordshire district councillors earning £4,350 a year and Cherwell district councillors receiving £4,155.

Labour councillor for Didcot South, Margaret Davies, who voted against the proposal, said that the status of being joint highest earners in the county 'is not a badge of honour that I will wear with pride'.

She added: "There was no need for it and it's just too much. I supported a sensible increase, not this."

Cllr Davies intends to give the difference between the recommended increase and the actual increase to a Didcot charity.

Witney 260 homes plan turned down

PROPOSALS to build 260 homes in Witney were refused by West Oxfordshire District Council on Tuesday afternoon.

Developers Gladman Developments had applied for outline planning permission to build the homes on land north of Burford Road.

It came after the developers' first proposal for 270 homes on the site was rejected by the council in November.

But the council's Lowlands Area Planning Sub-Committee voted to turn down the new plans after it was described as an "illogical urban extension of the town", as well as concerns over traffic.

Duncan Enright, who sits on the committee, said: "There are many different reasons why this was not an appropriate development.

"The committee was extremely clear the first time it came up and things have not really changed.

"We hope now that this will be an end to it."

Before the meeting, Gladman Developments claimed they had addressed the five reasons why the first application had been refused, adding that the council did not have a five-year supply of housing.

Gladman were unavailable for further comment.

City in admiration for The Rifles' parade

• The parade makes its way back to St Aldate's Town Hall

RESIDENTS of Oxford were treated to a unique spectacle as soldiers of 7th Battalion The Rifles marched through the city for the very first time after being given 'freedom of the city' on Sunday morning.

Crowds swamped the street of St Giles' to witness the speedy 140-pace-a-minute march by 180 past and present regiment members through the city.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

They paraded in unison through the city centre from St Aldate's street to St Giles' led by The Rifle's commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel James Bryant.

The servicemen then lined up in a presentation at St Giles', where they were saluted by the Lord Lieutenant of Oxfordshire Tim Stevenson, Major General Patrick Sanders CBE and Lord Mayor of Oxford Rae Humberstone, who granted them the honorary freedom of the city.

Abingdon's A Company 7 Rifles had 60 officers represented at the parade and A Company's captain Rick Fletcher of the Edward Brooks Barracks told the Guardian that it was a 'fabulous occasion'.

Capt Fletcher said: "We thoroughly enjoyed presenting ourselves to the people of Oxford.

"There was a great deal of planning involved and we think it turned out really well.

"It was a fabulous occasion and we were received amazingly by people and in the town hall afterwards for the presentations."

The Rifles were joined in the parade by the accompanying 7 Rifles (Waterloo) Band, which treated intrigued residents with performances from Pharrell Williams' Happy to Adele's Skyfall.

It is the first time soldiers of the 7th Battalion The Rifles have marched through the city on being awarded its freedom.

They formed in 2007 after the Royal Green Jackets Infantry Regiment (formerly Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry) merged with the Light Infantry, Devonshire and Dorset Light Infantry and the Royal Gloucestershire, Berkshire and Wiltshire Regiment.

The Rifles' five regular battalions are based in Edinburgh, Northern Ireland, Chepstow and Paderborn in Germany.

Uni students' 'yes' to traditional robes

OXFORD University students voted convincingly to carry on the ancient tradition of wearing gowns and suits while sitting exams in a historic referendum last week.

Over 8,500 students went to the polls in Oxford to cast their votes from Wednesday to Friday on whether they should keep wearing 'sub fusc' clothing and a gown and mortarboard (softcap) during exams.

The results showed 75 per cent of students voted 'yes', 24 per cent voted 'no', and 103 students abstained.

Louis Trup, president of Oxford University Student Union, told the Guardian: "It was a fantastic turnout which was significant for us as a union, but the main focus for me is that the students came out and used their voice to vote on Oxford's traditions.

"The result says that students support some of the university's traditions and this opportunity gave them a great say in the way the university is run."

Sub fusc clothing is either a dark suit, skirt, or trousers with dark socks or tights, black shoes, a plain white collared shirt or blouse and a black or white tie.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The result was similar to a slightly different question of whether they should wear a gown and mortarboard - without the sub fusc clothing - to which 77 per cent of students voted 'yes', 22 per cent voted 'no' and 128 abstained.

Another referendum on the issue in 2006 saw 84 per cent of Oxford students vote in favour of maintaining the formal wear.

A statement from Oxford University said: "While this vote has indicated that students feel no need to change university policy on the wearing of sub-fusc, gathering comprehensive views of students on university policies is an important part of the student union's work representing student views."

Turnout for the vote was 40.6 per cent.

The university is one of the few in the UK where full academic dress is still regularly worn.

Jobs under threat at Harwell plant

JOBS at Harwell could go as nuclear management company Magnox announced it is making staff cuts of between 1,400 and 1,600 across its 12 sites.

The losses are set to include staff, agency and contract roles up until September 2016.

In a statement last week, Magnox said: "We will seek wherever possible reductions to be through voluntary means and we will endeavour to retrain staff in roles where we are reliant on agency resources.

"It is our intent to further mitigate the impact of these reductions by offering alternative roles in the wider Cavendish Nuclear/Fluor business and elsewhere."

Magnox is a now obsolete type of nuclear power reactor.

The company itself – owned by parent firm Cavendish Fluor Partnership – is the management and operations contractor responsible for 12 nuclear sites and one hydroelectric plant in the UK, working for the sites' owner, the Nuclear Decommissioning Authority.

• Main gates to the old Harwell site

The company also said it will work with trade unions to support the employees to ensure changes are managed fairly.

Eleven of Magnox's plants have already stopped operating with the Wylfa plant in North Wales set to close next year.

A statement from the Nuclear Decommissioning Authority read: "Staff numbers at the 12 sites have been declining for a number of years as progress is made on the decommissioning programmes.

"The NDA has been assured that efforts will be undertaken to mitigate the impact of any job losses through an emphasis on voluntary redundancy, reskilling and the potential for alternative employment."

The Harwell site became Britain's Atomic Energy Research Establishment in 1946 and operated until the '90s, but since then work has been in progress to decommission and dismantle facilities.

Summer Eights

OXFORD: This week sees the return of Oxford University's annual Summer Eights rowing competition in Oxford.

The four-day event at Head of the River, which started yesterday in the city, sees the university's colleges go head to head in a rowing regatta where each college selected a handful of coxed eights to compete in the men's and in the women's races.

Christ Church College holds the most overall male victories, whilst Somerville College holds the most overall female victories.

The finals on Saturday regularly attract thousands of spectators every year.

Tandem fest

OXFORD: Next month sees the return of Oxford's eco-friendly Tandem Music Festival at the Hill End Outdoor Education Centre.

The concept of the event is that people cycle from across the country and Europe to convene at the site where there will be an eclectic mix of music, talks, workshops and documentaries.

The festival will also have pop-up theatres, upcycled hot tubs, writing workshops, bike rides and an appearance from acclaimed 50-piece orchestra, Sinfonia Gaia.

Plans to fine rough sleepers scrapped

CONTROVERSIAL plans that would have seen rough sleeping in Oxford city centre 'criminalised' have been scrapped.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Oxford City Council had been consulting on the Public Spaces Protection Order (PSPO) for the centre that would give council officers and police the power to issue fines of up to £1,000 for actions it deemed anti-social.

These include persistent begging, busking for more than an hour in one place and street drinking.

But rough sleeping, which had been included, has been removed after the order was reconsidered by the council.

Director of homeless charity Crisis Skylight Oxford, Kate Cocker, said: "We are very pleased with the decision of Oxford City Council not to include rough sleeping in the terms of its city centre PSPO.

"The decision is a victory for the city residents, homeless people, students and charities who have come together to oppose the proposals and suggest a better approach."

Bob Price, leader of the city council, said: "We have discussed the proposal with our partners in dealing with homelessness and have concluded that there are more effective ways of tackling this problem.

"Tackling homelessness is and will always remain a top priority."

And in protest to the inclusion of busking on the list, musicians and street performers campaigned in Oxford last week.

Under the order, buskers could be fined for playing for more than 60 minutes in one place, obstructing the highway, or playing too loudly.

However, the need for a busking permit would be removed.

A statement from the council said: "The measures proposed will have no impact on the vast majority of buskers and will in fact make it easier for musicians to busk in Oxford city centre."

The plans are to be discussed by the council's scrutiny committee on June 2, before the Executive Board makes a decision on June 11.

Didcot to host climate action protest

DIDCOT will play host to an action weekend of protestors against climate change policies starting tomorrow.

No Dash for Gas, a UK action group that since 2012 has been protesting against government policies on climate change, will descend on a site 'a few miles' from Didcot's power stations until Tuesday for a peaceful protest titled, 'Reclaim the Power'.

Fellow protest groups will join the grassroots group over the course of the weekend, with Didcot chosen due to Didcot B's gas-fired power station.

• No Dash for Gas protestors with a mock image of Didcot

No Dash for Gas say they also chose Didcot as they believe owners RWE Npower has been lobbying to weaken their emissions controls and block progress towards renewable energy.

Reclaim the Power organiser Hannah Smith told the Guardian: "More and more people are being forced into fuel poverty and it is not acceptable.

"We have been hearing from lots of people in Didcot who have their own ideas and we ask them to come down and share their thoughts and experiences."

Workshops will run across the weekend ahead of the main protest day planned on Monday.

Acting Superintendent Jim O'Ryan of Thames Valley Police said: "Police will be working closely with its partners, RWE and those wishing to protest, in order to minimise the impact of the protest and local communities."

Concerns over footpaths as haul road is approved

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• The junction between Randolph Avenue and Shipton Road, with the lay-by where the haul road would start from

A HAULAGE road to a 58-home development close to Marlborough School in Woodstock has been approved, despite fears from residents that access to nearby footpaths would be lost.

Cherwell District Council's planning committee last Thursday voted in favour of giving developers Pye Homes permission to build a temporary access road from Shipton Road to the new housing site.

Residents and Woodstock Town Council had voiced concerns that the road would cut across well-used footpaths and a bridleway, meaning they couldn't be used safely.

There were also worries the road means that the development was expanding further outwards.

Town councillor Sharone Parnes said: "The haul road is going to impact on users of the bridleway and the footpaths around.

"It's just really sad to see it expanding beyond the proposed site – the haul road will technically become part of the proposed site, which is a bigger development site than was originally envisaged."

The road was put forward by developers to try and avoid lorries having to drive through the residential area at Randolph Avenue to the east of the school to access the site behind.

And Cherwell councillor Debbie Pickford, who voted to approve the road, didn't think it would impact on those using the bridleway and footpaths.

She said: "I understand about the bridleway, I've ridden horses and walked dogs, and I've read that [the developers] have to have someone on the gate at the crossing point so people can be walked safely across.

"In many ways I think this is thoughtful of the developers. They have access straight through a residential area, and that is what they are trying to avoid."

John Ashton, who attended last Thursday's meeting where he spoke on behalf of Pye Homes, said: "We do need to protect the users of the footpath, and this has been achieved so there's no objection from the council's footpath officer."

Hundreds hit Oxford tennis courts

OXFORD went tennis mad for the Great British Tennis Weekend in Florence Park last weekend as over 150 players hit the court.

Players from all ages enjoyed free matches and coaching.

Oxford's Lord Mayor Rae Humberstone hit a few balls alongside his fellow councillors.

And Mark Lygo, the city council's 'champion' for events, called the weekend 'a pleasure to be a part of'.

He said: "I didn't realise at the time but I clocked up a distance of 10km when I played.

"It was a pleasure to be a part of and join in the fun.

"Cardio tennis was a fun new experience, and more importantly, it was encouraging to see lots of families and older residents getting involved."

Players aged five to 70 hit the court, with many playing for the very first time.

Courtney Warden, the council's community sports team leader, said: "It was a huge success, and great to see so many people taking to the court having fun."

She continued: "We hope people have been inspired to take up tennis."

Victim speaks out after her sex abuser is jailed

A WOMAN who was sexually assaulted as a child in Oxford and Buckinghamshire has spoken about her experience after the man who abused her was jailed for 10 years.

The victim, who wishes to remain anonymous, released a statement after 78-year-old Joseph Armotrading, of Salthill Drive in Slough, was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on May 13.

She had been abused between 1979 and 1981, when she was aged nine to 11, in the Oxford, High Wycombe and Slough areas.

In a statement, she said: "Before Joseph Armotrading came into my young life, my life was full of joy – I was a happy-go-lucky little girl without a care in the world.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"What I thought was his genuine interest in me was in fact grooming for sexual abuse.

"My young mind could not comprehend the physical violations and psychological trauma, and I went from being a happy-go-lucky child to being a lonely, depressed little girl."

She continued: "In the 35 years since Joseph Armotrading sexually abused me I have fought incredibly hard to stay alive – I have suffered from anxiety and depression, and I still require assistance to cope with the trauma.

"However at last we have finally achieved justice."

Armotrading was first summoned to answer to four counts of indecent assault on a child under 13 years old in May last year.

He was found guilty by a majority jury after a four-day trial, and was sentenced to 30 months in prison for each count, to run consecutively.

Investigating officer Det Con Maria Morrisey of the Child Abuse Investigation Unit in Cowley said: "I would like to pay tribute to the courage of the victim and I hope the sentencing of Armotrading will be some kind of closure."

She added: "I know it has had a huge impact on the victim and family over the years."

Clooney's house

OXON: Film star George Clooney's proposed plans to add a 12-seater home cinema and a luxurious swimming pool to his 17th-century country estate has been approved.

The plans will also see the introduction of a new pool house, pergola and hot tub for the newlyweds to relax in.

West's eco-stance

WEST OXON: West Oxfordshire District Council officers made a stance against fly-tipping over the weekend by visiting recycling bank sites to help prevent their continual misuse.

The site visits are in addition to increased monitoring of the main trouble spots and clearer signage explanations.

Cllr David Harvey, cabinet member for environment, said: "Sometimes materials are left strewn all over the place and we urge residents to contact us if they witness anyone dumping materials or not using sites correctly."

Fly-tipping can be reported at westoxon.gov.uk/report or by calling 01993 861060.

Littlemore children's nursery set to open

• A look at the brand new Busy Bees Nursery

A LITTLEMORE children's nursery is set to open its doors for the first time next month following an extensive refurbishment.

Busy Bees Nursery in Armstrong Road, which was formerly Oxford Nursery, has its opening day on June 6 where it looks to showcase its new state of the art nursery equipment and educational resources.

The new nursery will offer places to children aged between three months and five years, with refurbishment work on the building due to be completed in the coming weeks.

Marg Randles, co-founder and managing director of Busy Bees Nurseries, said: "We're hugely excited to be opening a nursery in Littlemore and have put a great deal of thought into getting the feel of the nursery just right for the children.

"We will have a range of amazing sensory spaces for the children to experience themed areas to encourage role play and communication."

"Our team is working very hard to make sure every aspect of the nursery is perfect for when we open our doors."

Busy Bees already run 237 individual nurseries at sites across the county.

The new centre will have an in-house chef providing freshly prepared and locally sourced food to the centre's younger children.

Carer's wing walk above Wallingford

A CARE home staff member has raised more than £1,000 for Alzheimer's research after completing a wing walk over Wallingford 500ft up.

Pauline Griffith, 59, who works at Edgbaston's Sunrise Senior Living home, travelled down from Birmingham on Saturday to take to the skies at the Chiltern Airdome.

Pauline and friend Jackie Whittingham, 59, strapped themselves to the wings of a plane whilst the pilot performed tricks in the air.

She and Jackie were also joined and cheered on by 95-year-old Tom Lackey, from the West Midlands, who is the world's oldest wing walker and inspired the duo to take to the skies.

Pauline, who raised over £1,300 for Alzheimer's Society, told the Guardian: "It was an absolutely fantastic day and I loved every minute of it."

Elvis back in TROUBLE in Benson

AFTER the success at Didcot Civic Hall, Trouble are once again performing their Authentic Elvis Show in association with Tamara Anthony Events at Benson Parish Hall.

This year marks the 80th Birthday of Elvis Presley, The King of Rock & Roll, and it's hard to believe that 2017 marks the 40th anniversary of his death. TROUBLE, a 6 piece professional band, formed in 2014 with the desire to provide an Authentic 3 hour Elvis show for fans, covering the 3 main eras of his career. The show begins with the Rock & Roll songs, including hits such as That's alright Mama, Treat me nice, Hound Dog and Devil in disguise. After a short break, it's straight into the "68 comeback special" with the leather outfit performing "One Night With You" and ending with "If I Can Dream," one of Elvis' personal favourites. The final session of the show is a two costume performance of the career defining Las Vegas shows, with all the favourites including "Suspicious Minds" and the amazing "American Trilogy" some of the best known performances.

TROUBLE's Band members aim to create an authentic show and believe they have; with microphone changes including the rare Vegas Electro-Voice RE15, Elvis' favourite performance mic and the iconic Shure 55 for the Rock & Roll set. This includes guitar changes and drum builds to define the musical progression throughout Elvis' career. Authentic costumes have been crafted by original designers of the King's outfits, giving the final authenticity that the band hoped for.

Projected imagery & amazing lighting make it hard to stay in your seat and not sing along or dance. Amazing reviews of performances can be found on Facebook, "Seen Trouble this evening, Elvis was amazing and the band were great", "Due to my age I wasn't alive to see the king perform, I have now," as well as reviews by the press as "a polished, professional and passionate performance" culminating into the opportunity to get a photo with the lead singer of the band.

A fantastic way to spend an evening, sure to be a hit with the Elvis fans.

Come along to see TROUBLE performing at Benson Parish Hall, Benson on 26th June. Doors open at 6:30pm and the show starts at 7:30pm.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

"WHICH" report April 2014.

Independent hearing aid providers come out on top

According to a "WHICH" report carried out in March and April 2014 Independent hearing aid providers were rated as the most satisfactory compared to Boots, Amplifon, Specsavers and Hidden Hearing.

An independent hearing aid audiologist is able to prescribe hearing aids from all manufacturers and find the exact system to suit your needs and budget. However some of the high street hearing aid retailers are tied to specific manufacturers therefore giving a limited choice.
Buying a hearing aid system is not just about the cost of the aid itself, you are purchasing an on-going package and so other things to consider are:-

1. Who is going to fit my hearing aids, and will I subsequently see the same person?
2. What is the level of ongoing aftercare and support after your hearing aids have been fitted?
3. Is the aftercare and support included in the price of the hearing aid system?
4. What is the length of the manufacturers warranty?
5. Can you trial the hearing system?
6. What are the ongoing costs i.e. batteries and wax guards?

Beware, some companies offer free guides on hearing aids and follow these up with home visits. They are often lead generation companies who operate in a sales based way. They may sell your information on to other large hearing aid providers who will target you with mail and telephone calls to entice you to buy their hearing aid systems. The same can also be said for websites which appear to offer comparatively low priced hearing aids.

If you are thinking of purchasing a hearing system it is important to compare the cost with a like for like hearing aid system and what aftercare is included. If the aftercare is not included in the cost of the system then how much will it typically cost you over the life of your hearing aids.

It can take time to fit and adjust a hearing system correctly so that it is working to maximise your hearing. Without a professional, attentive fitting, and programming by an experienced audiologist and a reliable aftercare service in place it is possible that your hearing aids will end up in a drawer somewhere because they failed to give you the benefits that you expected.

The difference between a good and a bad hearing aid solution is not usually the aid itself, since most aids are made by a handful of manufacturers. It's more to do with the professional fit and service given by the provider. Hearing aids are only as good as the expertise of the dispensing audiologist.

Keith Donaghy is an independent hearing aid audiologist with over 28 years experience of prescribing hearing aid systems in the Oxfordshire area. A consultation with him is FREE and he will happily help and advise you which, if necessary, hearing system will suit your lifestyle and budget the best. All with no obligation, what have you got to lose?

Killer poetry

A PAIR of performers will go head to head in a battle to the death... by poetry, at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot this Saturday, May 30.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Dead Poet's Death Match will see MC Mixy and Mark Grist perform a number of different poems, giving the audience the gruelling task of crowning their winner at the end of the battle.

"We're both writers and performers really. We just have different influences and backgrounds," MC Mixy told the Guardian.

"The simplest way to explain would be to say that Mark is a poet and I am a rapper, though after working together for a number of years now, it's fair to say our styles have both blended and have met somewhere closer to the middle.

"The show is a mix of styles and genres but if I had to pick three, it would be poetry, rap and comedy."

The pair met in a pub about six years ago where MC accidently caught his hoody on fire.

Mike was first onto the scene to extinguish the flames with a glass of coke.

It was from this odd scenario that the two sparked up conversation and decided to create material together.

Their first run of shows around the country was successful enough for the pair to leave their day jobs to perform full time.

But MC told the Guardian there are other plans for the future.

"We must have done thousands of gigs together all over the country now, and this will likely be our last tour ever, if not for a very long time," he said.

"The show we are touring here is something we've been developing for the last year or so where we blend elements of spoken word, poetry, comedy, rap and rap battles.

"We've both selected a team of our favourite dead poets (four each) and will be letting audiences around the UK choose who they would like to include in each show. We will use our ability as writers/performers to relay some info about these chosen poets and then don the stage dressed as them in a heated fight to the death."

After the tour in June he plans to move to China and teach English for at least a year.

The show starts at 8pm.

Get set for jazz greats

SHE started writing songs at just 11 years old, and sang in front of 85,000 people at Wembley Stadium in 2012.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

But Oxfordshire-born musician Rebecca Poole, also known as Purdy, is bringing her trusty quartet to the more intimate setting of the Oxford Wine Café this Sunday, May 31.

The singer-song writer, originally from Nettlebed, will be flanked by fellow musicians Toliy Vyacheslavov (tenor saxophone), Paul Jeffries (double bass) and Hugh Turner (guitar) at the Summertown venue.

"Writing songs was a natural progression from writing diaries and I would use two cassette players to record harmonies from tape to tape until I had a very harmonious and inaudibly fuzzy recording," Rebecca told the Guardian.

"I found this process really exciting and as soon as I heard Nina Simone's 'Feeling Good', this is where I fell helplessly into the world of the American song book and found myself influenced by those bittersweet love songs."

The singer, who has performed with the likes of Simply Red, is getting set to perform across the globe.

Her next album, 'Diamond in the Dust', is due out in October.

"Singing is my day job, my night job and everything in between. I am very lucky to have made a living from doing what I love," she added.

"I won't feel like I did my job properly if the audience haven't laughed, reflected, felt nostalgic, felt sad, felt moved or felt uplifted."

The free event in South Parade, Summertown, starts at 6.30pm.

Purdy added: "You can expect an eclectic mix of old jazz standards by some of my favourite artists like Nina Simone, Peggy Lee, Nancy Sinatra and also some of my own original songs with a cheeky jazz, pop cross over."

The Drifters come to Oxford

ONE of the world's longest running music groups will grace Oxford with their presence tonight.

The Drifters are making their way to the New Theatre Oxford for a one-stop show in their UK tour.

The quartet, formed back in 1953, have had a whopping 65 different members over the last 62 years, with the current full line-up still getting into the swing of stability since last year.

Michael Williams, who joined in 2008, and Daniel Bowen-Smith, a member since last year, explained to the Guardian the answer behind their long-running success.

"The reason I think the group has continued on is due to the constant rebranding," Michael said.

"The group started in 1953 but became a brand in 1954 when George Treadwell, who managed The Drifters from 1953 to 1967, was losing members of the group due to military call up.

"Also, the change of musical style and trends of the times meant the group had to keep rebranding in order for the legacy to continue."

Daniel added: "Last year we gave everyone the 'Optimum Tour', which means 'the best of everything'.

"And the only way to top that tour

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

was to give The Drifters fans a little history lesson from the beginning to the present day.

"So far we have had a blast and the fans didn't realise how many songs were actually recorded by The Drifters themselves."

Since the group's inception into the music industry, The Drifters have released 63 singles with their most recognisable hit 'Saturday Night at the Movies' peaking at three in the UK singles charts in 1972.

And despite releasing their first single since 1979 two years ago, Damion Charles, also a member since last year, said he felt 'privileged' to be performing in one of the world's most successful R&B/soul groups.

"Sometimes I look out and see children as young as three with their older brother/sister, their parents and even their grandparents," he said.

"It brings a good feeling to know that music can bring three generations of family together no matter where you are in the world, so to be singing to a vast range of audiences makes me very privileged."

Ryan King, who joined the group in 2010, added: "I got a text from my godfather asking if I'd like to audition and since he's actually The Drifters' lawyer, I was like 'I'd love to audition'.

"So I did and I'm still here five years later.

It's one of the best job experiences I've had and it's changed my life in a lot of other ways so I'm glad to be a Drifter.

"We have an amazing team behind us that give us a lot of support so that helps a lot."

Tickets cost from £26 to £29.

The show starts at 7.30pm at the George Street theatre.

Manufacturer to set up 'Raise the Roof' stage at Goodwood to mark launch of new MX-5

Mazda's foray into live music

TO celebrate the launch of the all-new Mazda MX-5, the Japanese manufacturer will be at the 2015 Goodwood Festival of Speed this June as they prepare to bring live music to one of the world's most prestigious motoring festivals.

In addition to celebrating with both the legendary racing cars of its sporting past along with the stylish models of its current range, Mazda will be demonstrating its 'Defy Convention' spirit with 'Raise the Roof' – a four-day open-air music event inspired by the pleasure of music and wind in the hair motoring.

'Raise the Roof' will showcase 20 innovative artists in the intimate setting of the Goodwood House Stable Yard, where acts of all genres from brass bands to a beatboxing flutist will present an exciting line-up on Goodwood's only live music stage.

Free and open to anyone attending the Moving Motor Show and Festival of Speed this summer, the 'Raise the Roof' stage will sit in an open-air space within the classic walls of the Stable Yard, where a series of decked areas will interconnect the stages and bar in an MX-5-themed experience zone.

The festival, which will be hosted by radio DJ Tom Ravenscroft, will have music running through each afternoon from Thursday, June 25 until Sunday, June 28, where live DJs will keep the crowds entertained between acts.

Ayanna Witter-Johnson, Anushka, Brassroots, Chloe Black, Eska, Fiona Bevan, Fires (featuring Karima Francis), House Gospel Choir and Jake Isaac are just some of the names that will be at this year's event.

The all-new Mazda MX-5 is being introduced to the UK this year, and can achieve a maximum speed of 133mph, as well as having a fuel consumption of 47.1mpg.

It can go from 0-62mph in 7.3 seconds, and has CO2 emissions as low as 139g/km.

Prices for the MX-5 start from £18,495.

The Moving Motor Show is on Thursday, June 25, while the Goodwood Festival of Speed takes place from Friday, June 26 to Sunday, June 28.

For more information on the MX-5, visit Mazda's website: mazda.co.uk/cars/mazda-mx-5.

United get their man as striker Taylor signs on OXFORD United added to their striker contingent at the club with the announcement of signing Portsmouth's Ryan Taylor on Tuesday night.

The 6ft 2in striker, who scored 10 goals for Pompey in 41 appearances last season, has joined on a two-year deal after he was released as a free agent.

U's head coach Michael Appleton called Taylor 'a really strong addition to the squad', with the hope that the player will go on to become a regular in United's potent attacking force.

Appleton said: "Ryan works hard, scores goals, he leads the line really well.

"He is someone you know is going to make life very hard for opposition defenders.

"He was one of the best forwards in the division last season and we are delighted to have him here."

The 27-year-old began his career with his hometown team Rotherham United, making over 100 appearances for the club.

Taylor then moved to Bristol City in 2011, where his career failed to truly kick on before his move to Portsmouth brought back his flair for goal scoring.

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Taylor said after securing the move: "It's an exciting move for me. Oxford have big plans and I have been very impressed by the ambition everyone has shown.

"I'm looking forward to reporting back for pre-season, getting to know the lads and being part of a successful side here."

Taylor follows Kemar Roofe and Liam Sercombe into the club, with May proving to be a very busy month for the U's on the transfer front.

Appleton previously said the club would try to bring in 'two or three other signings' earlier this month, ahead of securing Taylor's services.

He said on the attitude he looks for in his players: "It's about having the right personality, the right people, in the building.

"I think we have a group of players who genuinely believe in what we want to do."

And Oxford United have been named as third favourites for the title on Tuesday by bookmakers, who had them at 14-1 to top the table come next year.

Hundreds of Welsh fans get health check-up

SCORES of London Welsh supporters were kept in top shape after they teamed up with Oxfordshire County Council to offer fans mini health checks before Welsh's final game against Saracens on May 16.

The idea was engineered to promote the NHS health-check programme in which five mini-check stations were set up for the day.

Adult fans were offered the chance to get their blood pressure and Body Mass Index checked by trained health care professionals.

County councillor Hilary Hibbert-Biles, cabinet member for public health, was in attendance and said: "It was fantastic to be a part of the season's final game. It was a great opportunity to speak to people face-to-face about the benefits of a health check.

"There was a really positive atmosphere and plenty of people were genuinely interested in finding out more about how to protect their health."

More than 20 checks were carried out on the day, with entrants given a pocket-sized card for reference containing the patient's information.

United coaches line-up for LVS Oxford squad

TWO Oxford United community coaches swapped changing rooms last week as they helped LVS Oxford stage a memorable football match.

United coaches Ross Layton and Kevin James visited the school on May 22 for learners on the autistic spectrum to coach teams preparing for the game, which saw the students take on a combined parent and staff side.

Kevin's role saw him put the parents and staff through dribbling and shooting drills, while Ross looked at encouraging teamwork amongst the learners.

The parents and staff side didn't take it easy on the kids and launched into a 3-0 half-time lead before the learners came out in the second half with a point to prove and fought back.

The learners rallied with a 4-3 lead with minutes remaining, which saw a superb effort from Hugh Parks.

In a dramatic late twist, the game had to be decided on penalties after parent Sean Eliot grabbed a last-minute equaliser.

But the learners were victorious from the spot-kicks as LVS Oxford's headteacher Jane Straw scored the winning penalty to secure victory for her school.

Heineken Cup winner Leo boosts Exiles backs

LONDON Welsh have signed 32-year old Samoan London Irish lock forward Dan Leo ahead of next season's Greene King IPA Championship campaign.

Leo becomes the Welsh's 13th new signing this summer and joins after just one season at the Madejski Stadium.

The New Zealand-born forward, who can also play back row, previously had spells with Perpignan, Bordeaux-Begles and Wasps.

He brings the experience to two World Cup tournaments in 2007 and 2011, and has 39 Samoan caps at international level.

Steve Lewis, London Welsh director of rugby, said: "Dan is vastly experienced and that experience will be hugely beneficial in next season's campaign.

"He is an athletic and powerful ball-carrying second row, and with his height and weight will also give us another line out option."

The former Samoan international stands 6ft 6in and 17st 8lb, and made his Premiership debut against Saints in February 2006.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Since then he's made 75 premiership appearances and has scored three tries in his time in England.

The lock kick-started his career with the Queensland Reds in New Zealand before moving to the Wasps in 2005

Leo is also a Heineken Cup winner after coming off the bench in 2007 to help Wasps secure a 25-9 victory over Leicester Tigers in the Twickenham final, before aiding them to the Premiership title in 2008.

The Exiles have also confirmed the side's coaching set up for next season.

Rowland Phillips will continue as head coach with club captain Matt Corker taking up the role of line-out coach, whilst fly half Olly Barkley will help with developing the back's attacking style.

Oxford hit rock bottom after Reading fightback

OXFORD Cricket Club's form continues to spiral downwards as they were left propping up the Division 1 table after they fell to defeat against Reading on Saturday.

They remain 11th in the Serious Cricket Home Counties Premier League after a third defeat in a row that saw them collapse despite getting themselves into a winning position.

Reading needed 171 to win the game and Oxford looked set for their first victory of the season when Reading were on 58-5.

However, Reading's Praful Waghela and Jack Beaven's partnership of 92 led their side to victory in a great comeback performance.

Oxford originally slipped to 59-3 after Michael Bates went for only 11 in a poor start, before middle-order batsmen Sean Thornton and Shami Mendis hit 70 in a stand for the fourth wicket.

But Oxford were all out for 170 in the 46th over after the batting went into a rapid decline.

Ian Slatcher and Martin Andersson each claimed three wickets and Freddie Simon and Mark Beer gave Oxford a pinch of hope, but Waghela's partnership with Beaven proved too strong.

Beer managed to bowl out Waghela after Bates stumped him for 71 but it was too little too late as Reading won the game in the 40th over.

Oxford took six points from the game whilst Reading took 20 to lift them to fourth in the table.

This Saturday sees Oxford head to seventh-placed Slough for their next game at Upton Court Road.

United women outdone by last minute penalty

A LAST-MINUTE penalty meant that Oxford United Women fell to a first defeat in four after losing 3-2 to Everton Ladies on Sunday at The Northcourt in Abingdon.

United had taken a two-goal lead in the first half through Lauren Allison and Katie Stanley, but Everton's Michelle Hinningan and Millie Turner brought the Blues back into the game.

United were in front inside 12 seconds with Allison finishing Stanley's intelligent through ball to send the bench into raptures.

Stanley kept hassling the Blues' defence and tormenting keeper Kirstie Levell, and finally found the net with a goal in the 18th minute as she fired home Holly Pickett's cross.

United's defence was soon tested by the away side and Hinnigan's curling free-kick effort gave Everton a way back into the game in the 21st minute.

However, Everton had to wait until the hour mark for an equaliser with Turner heading home with a powerful header from a lofted corner.

United keeper Demi Lambourne then lost control in the area with Danielle Turner, conceding a stoppage time penalty.

And Paige Williams stepped up and fired past Lambourne to ensure an Everton win.

Record haul for Henley's Roberts

HENLEY Cricket Club's opener Michael Roberts single-handedly dominated Horspath with a club record 155 to send the reigning champions to a 143-run victory in Division 1 at the Brakspear Ground.

Robert's huge score took his Henley side to an astounding 296-7 off their 50 overs after being put into bat.

His superb haul beats the record that was set by Carl Crowe for Henley against Potters Bar five years ago and also matches the record score that Horspath have conceded since they were beaten 293-4 in 2011.

Robert's 155 came from 137 balls, in which he scored 16 fours and six sixes for his side, before he was eventually bowled out by pacer Adam Mould.

Horspath only managed to hit 153 from 38.5 overs, with 15-year-old opener Harrison Ward impressing with a 47-run haul.

The youngster was deeply impressive for his side, surviving a whirlwind introduction into the game before he managed to hit five fours in his 75-ball stay before Euan Brock balled him out for lbw.

Brock went on to take the last five wickets for Henley, cleaning up the Horspath batsmen as Henley took 20pts from the game, which see's them second in the Serious Cricket Home Counties Premier League Division 1 table.

They are just below Banbury on the same points.

Pepperell struggles at Wentworth

A DISAPPOINTING final round of 77 meant that Abingdon golfer Eddie Pepperell finished tied-72nd in the BMW PGA Championship in Wentworth on Sunday.

A double bogey at the first set the tone for Sunday's play for Pepperell, as a second double bogey, three bogeys and just two birdies meant he ended his fourth round five over par.

Pepperell failed to find the form at the tournament, which he jointly held the lead last year going into the final round.

His first round on Thursday saw him fire in five bogeys and five birdies to end the day level par in a share of 38th.

Another round of 72 on Friday saw him make the cut, finishing ahead of world number one Rory McIlroy in the process.

But the weekend proved to be harder for the Frilford Heath golfer, as a two-over 74 on Saturday was followed by a 77 on Sunday.

It meant he finished the tournament on seven over par, 28 shots adrift of the clear winner An Byeong-Hun.

Strauss praised by England vice-captain

CRICKET: Former Radley College pupil and national director of cricket Andrew Strauss has appointed Joe Root as vice-captain of the England Test side.

Root was full of praise for Strauss and wants to ensure his tenure will have a more stable future.

Root said: "As players, we've got a responsibility to go out there and put some really strong performances in and make Strauss' job as easy as possible."

"I think Strauss has got a big rule to play in England's future now."

Six-a-side competition

FOOTBALL: Six-a-side footballers are being sought for a chance to win a cup as part of the second annual Aroma Carnival Cup.

The cup will take place on Sunday May 31 at Oxford Brookes' Headington Campus and is set to raise funds for this year's Cowley Road Carnival, which is on July 5.

The carnival is Oxford's biggest street party of the year and last year's festival saw 45,000 people attend.

Oxford City Councillor Mark Lygo said: "This tournament is a great event as it gives local teams an opportunity to come together and socialise - and an opportunity to win a cup."

SAINTS LAY SIEGE TO THE TROJANS IN MASSIVE VICTORY

OXFORD Saints laid down a marker as they beat their 10-year points-scoring record in a single game after a 72-30 victory over the Torbay Trojans in Devon on Sunday.

The Saints now sit crisply on top of the Southern Football Conference West Division II after a superb win with running back James Walter leading the charge for the saints with two touchdowns.

The Trojans looked up for the fight and quarterback Aaron Butler led the offence in the first quarter before Oxford quarterback Ben Denton worked well with running back Kev Brooks to rush the ball for the first score of the game.

Saints' Spencer Duffy's extra point kick was good and Oxford cornerback Mike Turner intercepted a loose ball for a second touchdown with Duffy's kick true.

The Trojans rallied hard but Saints maintained a stranglehold of possession on the ball and the visitors held the lead into the second quarter.

Walter made a nuisance of himself for the Trojan defence and caught Denton's early pass in the second quarter to charge the endzone.

The visitors blocked Duffy's kick and subsequently grabbed themselves a touchdown through Aaron Burke, however Oxford veteran running back Mike Oluwole regained Oxford's momentum with a stunning 57-yard drive.

Ali Galbraith then raced into the endzone for Oxford for another touchdown before the break and Duffy's kick was good for a 34-8 half-time score.

The third quarter saw Oxford establish total dominance with Grant Phillips-Tebb and Walter scoring early on and Duffy's kicking remaining solid.

The Trojans hit back through a touchdown from Tim Rogers and a two-point conversion from Aaron Burke before Devon Powell crossed the line for Oxford.

The fourth quarter was all about the Saints as Harry Carr and Walter both crossed the line with Butler and Tim Rogers replying for Torbay for a final score of 72-30.

The Saints now have a three-week wait before they head to Bristol to take on the Apache on June 21st.

Oxford and Bristol met earlier in the season at Abingdon Rugby Club in a terrifically contested 35-34 Saints win.
